Editorial Policies
Editorial Review: All articles, whether solicited or unsolicited, are subject to editorial review. All material will be reviewed by the editor, the editorial staff and/or the editorial board.
as needed. Articles will be edited to ensure clarity, good grammar and appropriate language, and to conform to style, format and space restrictions.

Authorship: An article submitted by an individual will carry the byline of that individual. An article prepared, reviewed and submitted by a committee will carry the byline of the chair of that committee. A committee chair may submit an article that is not necessarily based on committee review or consensus; in that instance, the author’s designation as chair of that committee may not be included in the byline.

The views expressed are those of the authors and do not necessarily represent or reflect the views, policies or actions of AUA.

Disclosure: Authors are expected to disclose, voluntarily, any institutional or commercial affiliations or associations that might pose a conflict of interest in connection with the submitted material. All funding sources supporting the work should be acknowledged in a footnote. Institutional or corporate affiliations of the authors that might constitute a conflict of interest should be brought to the attention of the editor.

Graphics, Tables and Figures: If the submission will include graphics (e.g., tables, illustrations, photographs, charts, graphs, etc.) we request advance notification. Do not embed graphics in the electronic manuscript; please submit as separate files or scans. Please make sure you have proper permissions in place if you use outside figures, tables or graphics prior to submitting your manuscript.

Illustrative material must be identified by its reference number in the text and must be accompanied by a short caption, legend or summary statement. Tables should be self explanatory and should supplement—not duplicate—the text. Photographs should be color and should also include a suitable caption.

Abbreviations: Define all abbreviations and acronyms except those that have been approved by the International System of Units for length, mass, time, electric current, temperature, luminous intensity and amount of substance. Do not create new abbreviations for drugs, procedures or substrates.

Drug Names and Endorsements: Use generic names for all drugs, products and commercial services whenever possible. If any product or brand name(s) must be included for accuracy or clarity, notify the editor or editorial staff.

References: References and Bibliographies should be submitted with the article. References should be numbered in the order cited in the text; reference numbers in the text should be typed as superscripts. Bibliographical entries should be listed in alphabetical order by last name of the lead author. Authors are responsible for the accuracy and completeness of all references. Authors should follow guidelines as outlined in the AMA Manual of Style (Lippincott Williams & Wilkins). Abbreviations of journal names must follow those in Index Medicus.
